

CC6 Race 4 – Badger Farm

Sunday 8th January 2012

Men Strike Back, Ladies Strike Again

On a bleak hill overlooking England's historic capital, Totton runners gathered in encouraging numbers. Certainly, during the pre race mingling you didn't have to look very far to spot a blue running vest. Despite the challenges posed by the route (deceptively long hills and single file running), Totton's lead runners were well positioned to deliver two more great results.

In the men's race, Scott Edgington held off strong competition from Lordshill's Daniel Campion to win his third race in the series. He was followed by Matt Watson in 5th, Steve Wallington in 15th and Brian Frampton in 16th for a score of 37.

Claire Dyer once again led the ladies team home in 2nd place supported by regular team mates Lucy Buis in 6th and Justine Jury in 7th. Their score of 15 points was sufficient for yet another race victory. The ladies are now one race away from being confirmed as 2011/12 champions (although it is still currently mathematically possible for Eastleigh to catch them).

Most Valuable Runner

We often say how important it is that we field as many runners as possible in the CC6s and indeed the RR10s. Whilst you may not finish as a scoring runner, it's possible to mess up the scores of opposing teams by crossing the line ahead of their scoring runners. Andy Dyer did just that in today's race, edging John Macinnes from Southampton into 18th place. This was turned out to be vital as Totton beat Southampton by merely 1 point and are now in equal 1st place in the league with... Southampton. Well done Andy!
